Meet our ETA, Michael!

Dear EducationUSA students and families,

My name is Michael. I'm from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in the United States. I studied at Temple University to become an English teacher because I wanted to teach English abroad. I've come to Hungary because I would like to promote strong and deep cultural exchange with the country that my grandparents came from. I am currently teaching English to my wonderful students at the University of Pannonia, as well as working with the American Corner of Veszprém to create programs that teach English language and American culture to people of all ages. I hope to improve my Hungarian and learn more about Hungary as I continue my work here.

Warm regards,
Michael Capaldi
