SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE TO WOMEN FROM ALL AROUND THE WORLD AT PINE MANOR COLLEGE

Traditional Admission at Pine Manor College

Pine Manor College (PMC) is a four-year liberal arts college dedicated to preparing women for roles of inclusive leadership and social responsibility in their workplaces, families, and communities. It is considered one of the most diverse and affordable all women's undergraduate options in United States. As a student at Pine Manor College you receive a personalized education in the comfort of small classes on a beautiful 66-acre campus. At present, almost 10% of our student body is international students, representing more than 20 countries from around the globe! To apply for admission to PMC, please contact our Director of International Recruitment at 617-731-7104.

- ❑ International students can earn up to $10,000 in scholarships per year based on merit and need.
- ❑ Rolling admission available for this January and September. Waived fee for online application

The Enhanced Foundational Program (EFP)

International students for whom English is not their first language are typically great candidates for Pine Manor College's Enhanced Foundational Program, or EFP. EFP is a bachelor's degree granting program for non-native English speaking students. EFP students receive additional help and support in reading, writing, and critical thinking. To apply for EFP, you must submit an application for general admission to the college, which includes submitting SAT and/or TOEFL scores. After an initial review, a member of our admission staff will contact you regarding your fit with the EFP program.

The English Language Institute at PMC

Pine Manor College's English Language Institute, or ELI, is an integral part of the PMC community offering intensive, non-degree granting English language instruction and cultural immersion for men and women from around the world. Located directly on the PMC campus, ELI provides personal attention from supportive faculty and staff, comfortable on-campus, residential accommodations, and a full day of academics along with social and cultural activities to keep you busy from the day you arrive. Information on registering for ELI can be found at English Language Institute: www.pmc.edu/eli-application or by calling 617-731-7145.

UC DAVIS EXTENSION OFFERS A DISCOUNT FOR 2 WINTER QUARTER PROGRAMS

UC Davis Extension is happy to announce a discount of $200 for Winter Quarter's English for Science and Technology Program (EST) as well as the Communication and Culture Program (CCP). This offer will reduce the tuition of each student to $1,440 (EST) and $1,290 (CCP).

Our English for Science and Technology Program

(http://extension.ucdavis.edu/international_programs/pdf/est_win_11.pdf) received an enthusiastic response from students and institutions.

Comments from Summer Quarter students include:

- * "Field trips. We do not usually have such an opportunity to visit research institutions in the United States. Therefore, it was really a rare and important experience for me."
- * "The different ways to teach English for the four different parts of the program is a great way to improve oral English and research English (presentation, listening & pronunciation, field trips, hot topics)."

Our Communication and Culture Program

(http://extension.ucdavis.edu/international_programs/pdf/ccp_win_11.pdf) has produced significant gains in students' confidence and motivation.

In the students' words, what they liked most was:

- * "The useful knowledge I learn here. Most of the courses are very interesting, and inspire students to study English more diligently and create the desire to know more about American culture."
- * "Good qualified teachers, lovely staff, wonderful cultural exchange."
- * "We had access to many resources at the computer labs and library, many out-door activities such as the Ice Cream Social and many field trips to famous landscapes in California."

If you have questions about the programs, living in Davis or need help with the application process, please contact UC Davis Extension at intlinfo@ucde.ucdavis.edu

HARVARD POSTDOCTORAL POSITION IN SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY AND SOCIETY

The John F. Kennedy School of Government and the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences (SEAS) at Harvard University are seeking to hire a Postdoctoral Fellow with expertise in Science, Technology and Society (STS). The one-year position will carry a teaching load of one undergraduate course in Technology and Society; the successful candidate will also assist in STS Program activities and build links between STS and SEAS.

Renewal for a second year may be possible contingent on satisfactory performance. Candidates should be qualified to carry out research on the social implications of one or more aspects of engineering or applied sciences, such as information and communication technologies, biotechnology, or nanotechnology. Areas of specialization might include studies of innovation; risk and regulation; intellectual property; new research partnerships and research governance; or ethical issues in technological R&D. Research experience on comparative, international and global issues is especially welcome. Interdisciplinary teaching experiences are highly desirable. Candidates should hold a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in an appropriate field, including science and technology studies, sociology, law, political science, economics, or engineering.

Interested candidates should submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter with a statement of research interests, a writing sample or representative publication, and three letters of recommendation in paper copy to Professor Sheila Jasanoff, Director, Program on Science, Technology and Society, Harvard University, John F. Kennedy School of Government, 79 John F. Kennedy Street, Mailbox 17, Cambridge, MA 02138.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2011 and continue until the position is filled. Applications from women and minorities are especially encouraged. Harvard University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer.

FIND OUT HOW TO AVOID SCHOLARSHIP SCAMS FROM THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION'S WEBSITE

The U.S. Federal Trade Commission cautions students to look for tell tale lines:

- "The scholarship is guaranteed or your money back."
- "You can't get this information anywhere else."
- "I just need your credit card or bank account number to hold this scholarship."
- "We'll do all the work."
- "The scholarship will cost some money."
- "You've been selected by a 'national foundation' to receive a scholarship" or "You're a finalist" in a contest you never entered.
