UNIVERSITY OF OREGON OFFERS WIDE VARIETY OF INTERNATIONAL STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

The University of Oregon provides various scholarships for its international student population. For example, the International Cultural Services Program (ICSP) consists of 30-40 renewable scholarships that apply to tuition only and range from $6,000 to $20,000 per year.

The ICSP scholarship has a cultural service component that requires students to give presentations about their home country to children, community organizations, and faculty, staff, and fellow students at the University of Oregon. These scholarships are based on financial need, academic merit, and the ability to make presentations to diverse groups of people. ISIP is open to both undergraduate and graduate students.

Additional scholarships and fellowships for international students who demonstrate financial need and academic merit include the International Dean's Excellence Award (IDEA) for New International Students, the Pressman Family Scholarship, and the Jim and Jean Tattersall International Student Scholarship.

All scholarships mentioned are available for the 2012-13 school year and require a completed application by February 15, 2012.

CAMPBELLSVILLE UNIVERSITY IN LOUISVILLE OFFERS ESL INSTITUTE

The English as a Second Language Institute at the Louisville campus of Campbellsville University prepares non-native speakers of English for full-time study at the university. All ESLI students take intensive courses in grammar, reading, writing, speaking, and listening comprehension. Students are tested for English proficiency and placed into the level of study that matches their needs.

ESLI students benefit from small classes, qualified and dedicated faculty, one-on-one tutoring, academic advising, and cultural excursions to nearby cities and tourist attractions. Students who successfully complete advanced-level studies of the ESLI are able to enroll at Campbellsville University for the regular university program.
