I. Financial Aid

AMHERST COLLEGE (MA) NEED-BASED FINANCIAL AID

We welcome first-year and transfer applications from international students!

As a college that follows a need-blind policy in admission for international students and awards financial aid to international students on the same need-basis as domestic students, Amherst is in an exceptional position to admit the most accomplished and promising students from around the world without regard for ability to pay.

COLORADO COLLEGE (CO) SCHOLARSHIPS FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS

COLORADO COLLEGE

Each year Colorado College awards scholarships to foreign students (non-U.S. citizens and non-U.S. permanent residents) enrolling as degree-seeking students. Typical awards include up to $2,000 in institutional work study (campus job). The scholarship is renewed every year, up to four consecutive years, until graduation.

Thirty-six percent of admitted international students were offered need-based financial assistance, ranging from $10,133 to $54,832. The average need-based international student grant was $45,293. More than $1.75 million was offered to international students in need-based or merit-based assistance.

ELON UNIVERSITY (NC) PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

ELON UNIVERSITY 125

Elon offers Presidential Scholarships to all qualified students. These awards are made at the time of admission and range up to US$4500 per year. Elon's first financial aid priority is to keep the cost of a quality education low. The total cost for a year at Elon is 9 percent below the national average for private colleges and universities. International students are also eligible to apply for our Fellows Programs.
