The Official EducationUSA Newsletter

A weekly insight into current US Higher Education news and scholarships

Dear Readers,

We hope you enjoyed your summer and got plenty of rest. Although our newsletter has been on a brief summer hiatus, the Fulbright EducationUSA Advising Center is back, and we look forward to another great year.

Fall is right around the corner and so is the start of our new workshops! The workshop schedules are already shared on our website (www.fulbright.hu/test-preparation) as well as our usual EducationUSA Newsletter.

You will also have the chance to meet EducationUSA team outside of the office at the upcoming Language Fair (Nyelvparádé) from the 9th till the 11th of September. Read more about this below!

This semester we have the pleasure of hosting not one but four English Teaching Assistants. Among them Will Freeman is going to be available in our EducationUSA Center in Budapest. Welcome to Hungary, Will!

Sziaosztok! My name is Will Freeman and I will be working with the Fulbright EducationUSA Advising Center in Budapest this year. I will also teach courses on academic writing and conversational English at the National University of Public Service. I come from Minnesota, a state in the Midwest of the U.S., but I spent the past few years studying towards a B.A. in Political Science from Tufts University in Boston. Having gone through the U.S. college application process, and having applied for many internships and grants as an undergrad, I hope I can serve as a resource for anyone interested in opportunities to study in my country. As an SAT, ACT, and (as of recently) a GRE veteran, I also look forward to finding ways we can prepare together for test-taking. If you have any questions on higher education in the U.S. or the study of politics please don't hesitate to contact me at freeman@fulbright.hu

Best,
Will
