NEW YORK UNIVERSITY HAUSER GLOBAL LAW SCHOOL SCHOLARSHIPS

As part of the Hauser Global Law School Program, the Hauser Scholars Program was founded in 1995 at the initiative of alumna Rita Hauser and NYU School of Law. Since its inauguration, the Hauser Scholars Program has become the leading initiative pursuing the adaptation of legal education in the United States towards an increasingly global perspective.

Each year a distinguished International Committee selects 10-14 of the finest students from countries across the world. These select individuals are invited to join the NYU School of Law community (either as LL.M. candidates or as Research Scholars) and to share their perspectives and experiences from their own legal systems with the rest of the Law School academic community. The Hauser Scholars are fully funded throughout the year of their studies at NYU School of Law and are integrated intellectually and socially in the events of the Hauser Global Law School Program and NYU School of Law.

TRI-COLLEGE UNIVERSITY INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ENJOY AMERICAN PICNIC

International students from the Tri-college Universities had a taste of the "good old fashioned American Picnic" this Sunday at the welcome dinner hosted by Rotary Club of Fargo-Moorhead on September 16.

It was an amazing sight to experience some of the most beautiful minds from all across the globe, as they huddled under a picnic shed at Lindenwood Park on a relatively cold Sunday evening. Students from 59 different nationalities dotted the magnificent collage.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA DAVIS OFFERS NEW ORIENTATION PROGRAMS FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The University of California, Davis will welcome its largest-ever group of new international undergraduates with programs to help their transition to U.S. college life — from culture shock to different expectations in the American classroom.

UC Davis estimates it will enroll about 600 new international undergraduates — 70 percent to 80 percent more than last year — and is offering them expanded orientation services, which begin today, as well as a new mentoring program and a special seminar series. The new orientation programs offer additional support for international students as UC Davis moves to increase their numbers to offer a more global experience for all of its students. Similar services are provided for all new students, but these focus on the unique needs of international students.

TIPS ON MAKING NEW FRIENDS FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

A lot of college advice focuses on practical, tangible topics, such as earning good grades, making money last, and even doing laundry. But college represents something else as well: an opportunity to forge new friendships.

In fact, some brave students attend a college where they know no one, and will be building a new social life completely from scratch. Here's what students can do, whether they're from the United States or are coming from abroad.

DOOR OPENS FOR NEW INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Until this fall, it was possible for a new international student at University of Wisconsin, Green Bay to arrive and depart without ever having visited the beautiful mid-American vacation destination that is Door County, just a few miles from campus.

Well, the Office of International Education at the University addressed that shortcoming as part of this fall's extensive International Student Orientation program. Great idea — we're told the students loved it — and the images show it.
