MONMOUTH COLLEGE (IL) INTERNATIONAL STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

Monmouth College is a selective, private, residential liberal arts college of 1260 students and 97 faculty in west central Illinois. It offers courses in the sciences, humanities, social sciences and arts (popular majors include computer science, communications and public relations, psychology, chemistry, physics, environmental science, international business and accounting).

Monmouth College has a longstanding tradition of welcoming students from every part of the world. The College accepts applications at any point throughout the year. There is no application fee, and admitted students are automatically considered for academic merit scholarship awards. SAT or ACT scores are helpful in the admissions review but are not required.

The College's merit-based financial assistance ranges from approximately $18,000 per year up to $21,000 per year (total assistance over four years averages $76,000). All scholarships are renewable for each year of the student's college career (up to four years in total, given good academic standing) - these are not one-year scholarships. The scholarships are partial tuition waivers.

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY (NY) SCHOOL OF MUSIC OFFERS NEW YORK CITY IMMERSION EXPERIENCE

The Gilbert Week: NYC Seminar for Music Professions is a one-week field trip that allows sophomore music majors to meet with arts professionals and visit performing arts institutions, as well as learn about a wide variety of career opportunities in music. Music programs have thrived at Syracuse University since 1877, when SU became one of the first universities in the United States to grant music degrees requiring four years' study in both music and theory. Today, the Setnor School of Music continues this tradition of innovation by offering undergraduate and graduate degree programs that prepare students for 21st-century music careers. Setnor students pursue degrees in composition, conducting, performance, music education, and the music and entertainment industries. Off-campus opportunities include performances and field experiences in Central New York; internships in London, Los Angeles, and New York City; and a semester abroad in Strasbourg, France.

NORTHERN STATE UNIVERSITY (SD) CELEBRATES CULTURE AND DIVERSITY

northern State university

Dance, food, and a wealth of culture took over the Barnett Center on November 1st, 2013 at Northern State University's third annual Culturefest.

From the Middle East to Europe, Asia and American Indian heritage, the celebration of cultures included traditional dances and performances on the main stage surrounded by booths offering food, drinks, art, clothes, and other items from different parts of the world.

"We want to show Aberdeen all the different cultures we have here," said Shlomit Oren, who is of Israeli and Columbian descent. "All the students here, we are neighbors with each other and we may not even be aware of all the beautiful countries we come from and all the culture we have to share," she said.

A crowd gathered to taste authentic German chocolate and apple and plum flavored kuchen. Carmen Arndt of Magdelburg, Germany, is taking 15 credits at NSU and studying translation at her home university.
