THE EVERGREEN STATE COLLEGE (WA) GRADUATE PROGRAM ON THE ENVIRONMENT SCHOLARSHIPS

The Graduate Program on the Environment at The Evergreen State College invites international students to apply for the fall 2015 cohort. International students are eligible for a wide variety of scholarships, including an international student scholarship that covers a third of tuition for two years.

This unique, interdisciplinary program will enter its 32nd year in fall 2015. Students use natural and social sciences to study and solve environmental problems through required core courses, electives, internships, independent study and a required thesis. Students may attend full time (two years) or part time (three years). The Graduate Program on the Environment is currently accepting applications for fall 2015; the priority deadline is February 15, 2015.
